The Beaver Watershed Alliance was formed in 2011 to proactively protect, enhance, and sustain the water quality of Beaver Lake through voluntary education and outreach, best management practice implementation, and scientific evaluation.
Forest and Pasture are the two best types of land cover for clean water. These two land uses account for a combined 87 percent of the land within the Beaver Lake Watershed, with forest accounting for about 64 percent. Because forested land is so important for providing clean water, the BWA would like to meet with the landowners of the forest to find out more about what types of forest management practices might be of interest. Management of timber, wildlife habitat, dirt roads, hunting, conservation, and other aspects of forest can bring income to landowners as well as continue to benefit water quality in the Beaver Lake Watershed. With this in mind, the owners of the forest and the BWA have an obvious common connection that would benefit us all greatly just to spend some time visiting about the topic of forest management. Thank you for your consideration of participating in this project, and we hope to see you at one of our upcoming meetings. If you can’t make the meeting, feel free to give us a call or email to talk or set up a free forest management site visit and consultation.
